Big Deer Herd Reported In County Woods

Deer hunters coming to Crawford County for the November firearm season should find plenty of deer in the woods.

Skip Madsen of Skip's Sport Shop on M-72 West reported that bucks have been sighted throughout the county, and that even small bucks with racks have been spotted. He explained racks on a yearling buck is an indication that food supplies have been plentiful.

"My guess is it will be one of the best seasons we have ever had," said Madsen. "There are more deer in the woods than ever before."

Conservation Officer Bruce Patrick said it has been a quiet bow season, with few hunters in the area. He said this is a change from last year when the hunting pressure was especially heavy.

He said the herd survived last winter in good condition. "Last year we had an early snow but it broke up early," said Patrick. One indication of a healthy herd is the number of twin fawns born in the spring and Patrick said there were several sets of twins counted this year.

Madsen agreed the bow season got off to a slow start, but said hunting increased in November when the herd entered its rutting season.

With temperatures in the 20s and 30s and snow already on the ground, Patrick said the season opener on November 15, could go either way.

"If the snow stays as it is it could be good," he said. "But if it storms like it did last year, it could be another light season."

Last year Patrick said it rained up to opening day and then the temperature turned cold and it began snowing. Before the storm let up, it had dumped about a foot of snow on the ground and the hunters packed up and went home. Hunting was limited to local sportsmen and a few downstate weekend hunters.

Madsen also blamed the weather for a poor harvest last year. He said state-wide there was a better than average kill, but was slow locally.

"If we have another poor season this year and then have a hard winter, the herd will be in trouble," said Madsen.

But he said he is not worried. According to Madsen, the wooly worm's hair is black on either end and brown in the middle this fall, which he said indicates Crawford County is going to have a nasty fall and spring, but pleasant weather in January and February. Some people listen for weather forecasts, others use the Farmer's Almanac, but Madsen said he watches the hairs of the wooly worm and believes it is more accurate.

Hunting pressure all over northern Michigan has been gradually decreasing over the past four or five years. Patrick said there are still some spotty concentrations, but said camps that have been used in the same area year after year were not there last year. He said hunters are staying in southern counties to hunt.

"It's closer to home," he said, "and there are more and bigger deer." Patrick said the southern herds do not suffer the effects of severe winters and are able to feed off the farmlands. Deer in the southern counties also do not have as many predators as deer living in northern Michigan.

"They have coyotes and dogs like we do," said Patrick, "but they don't have any bobcats."

Orange Coat Roundup Begins At Skip's Nov. 15

Lucky hunters will begin registering their bucks in Grayling's Orange Coat Roundup shortly after daylight Thursday at Skip's Sport Shop on M-72 West.

This is the eighth year Skip's has sponsored the Buck Pole Contest which runs from daylight on Thursday, opening day of the firearms deer season, until 6 p.m. on Friday, November 16. The Buck Pole will close Thursday at 8 p.m. and open again at 7 a.m. on Friday.

Hunters are expected to leave their bucks hanging for the full day of their kill. All deer must be taken from the pole at 8 p.m. on Thursday and 6 p.m. on Friday.

"When the pole is full (30-31 bucks), we may have to turn some away," said Skip Madsen, owner of the sporting goods store, "unless they qualify for a prize."

A $50 U.S. Savings Bond will be awarded each day of the contest for the first 10 bucks brought in, the first successful woman hunter, the youngest hunter, oldest hunter, and the heaviest buck.

Ten dollar prizes will be given each day for the second 10 bucks hung on the buck pole.

The hunter with the smallest rack each day will receive a Bill Burdick handcarved wooden deer.

The hunter who takes the deer with the largest rack over both days will win a Savage rifle with a Tasco scope valued at approximately $450.

Madsen said the largest rack is determined by measuring the length of each main beam, length of each tine, widest point between the antlers and distance between the tips. Each inch equals one point and fractions equal fractions of a point.

To enter the contest, hunters are required to have an Orange Coat Roundup button. The buttons can be purchased from Skip's and the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce for $2.

All profits from the event will be given to the Chamber of Commerce.

Camp Grayling Open To Hunting

Camp Grayling's commander, Lieutenant Colonel Wayne Koppa, reminds hunters that nearly all of the Camp's training areas are open to the public during Michigan's firearm deer season, November 15-30.

Game laws and hunting are regulated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources on Camp property, as they are on other hunting areas of the state. Areas not open to hunting are the Hanson State Game Refuge, and any fenced range impact areas restricted by DNR Closure Orders, which cover less than 10% of the 147,000 acres used for training.

New County Ambulance Service Closer To Starting Operations

By Irene Pettyjohn

After 13 months of organizational meetings, meetings with consultants, constructing by-laws, and filing articles of incorporation, AuSable Valley EMS, the county's new private non-profit ambulance service, is almost a reality.

Joseph Wakeley, county treasurer and AuSable Valley EMS board member, said the two main obstacles for start-up is securing an operating license from the State Health Dept. and final approval and signing of three contractual agreements.

"The license application involves securing several pieces of information like proof of insurance on vehicles and a list of employee names and their EMT training level," said Wakeley. "So we are accepting applications now and filling those positions will be our next step."

Once the application is filed, Wakeley said it should take from four to six weeks for approval.

Signatures on three contractual agreements are also needed to complete organization of the new ambulance service. These agreements are between Crawford County, Mercy Hospital, and AuSable Valley EMS; the City of Grayling, townships, and AuSable Valley EMS; and AuSable Valley EMS and the Crawford County Transit Authority (Dial-a-ride).

The agreement between the new ambulance service and Dial-a-ride is for management services. David Frederick, executive director, will be managing the ambulance service along with his duties as manager of the dial-a-ride and airport programs.

Bonnie Grannish has been hired as AuSable Valley's clinical operations supervisor. Grannish is a paramedic from Jackson and is a qualified advance life support instructor. It is the goal of AuSable Valley EMS to achieve advance life support level within the first year of operations.

Frederick will be making the ambulance's administrative decisions and Grannish will be making clinical decisions regarding ambulance operations.

Fire Damages Mobile Home On M-72 East

Fire caused extensive damage to a mobile home on M-72 East, near Deer Truck Trail, Saturday, November 10.

The trailer, owned by A.C. Brown, was reported on fire by a neighbor, Kelly Gates at about 4:51 p.m. Brown's son was alone, sleeping on the couch when the fire started. The sound of the telephone ringing awakened him and he escaped without injury.

Firemen from the Grayling City and Township Fire Dept. were at the scene for about two hours. The trailer sustained extensive fire damage to the kitchen area and smoke and heat damage to the living room and bedrooms.

The family pets, a cat and dog, died in the fire.

Cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Wet Snow Knocks Power Out For Days

Northern Michigan's first winter storm left approximately 15,000 Top-O-Michigan Electric Company customers without electricity. Hardest hit areas were Crawford, Kalkaska, Otsego, Antrim counties, and the southern half of Charlevoix County.

Dave Guzniczak, Member Services Advisor, said power was restored gradually as lines were repaired, but said repairs were still occurring on Friday, November 9, five days after the first outages were reported. Numerous power lines were down when trees and branches broke under the weight of nearly a foot of heavy wet snow.

"On Thursday morning we still had about 700 customers without electricity," said Guzniczak. "By evening we had managed to reduce that number substantially."

Lewis and Janice Wilde who live on Connors Flats Road were one of the households without electricity from Monday until about 9:30 p.m. on Thursday.

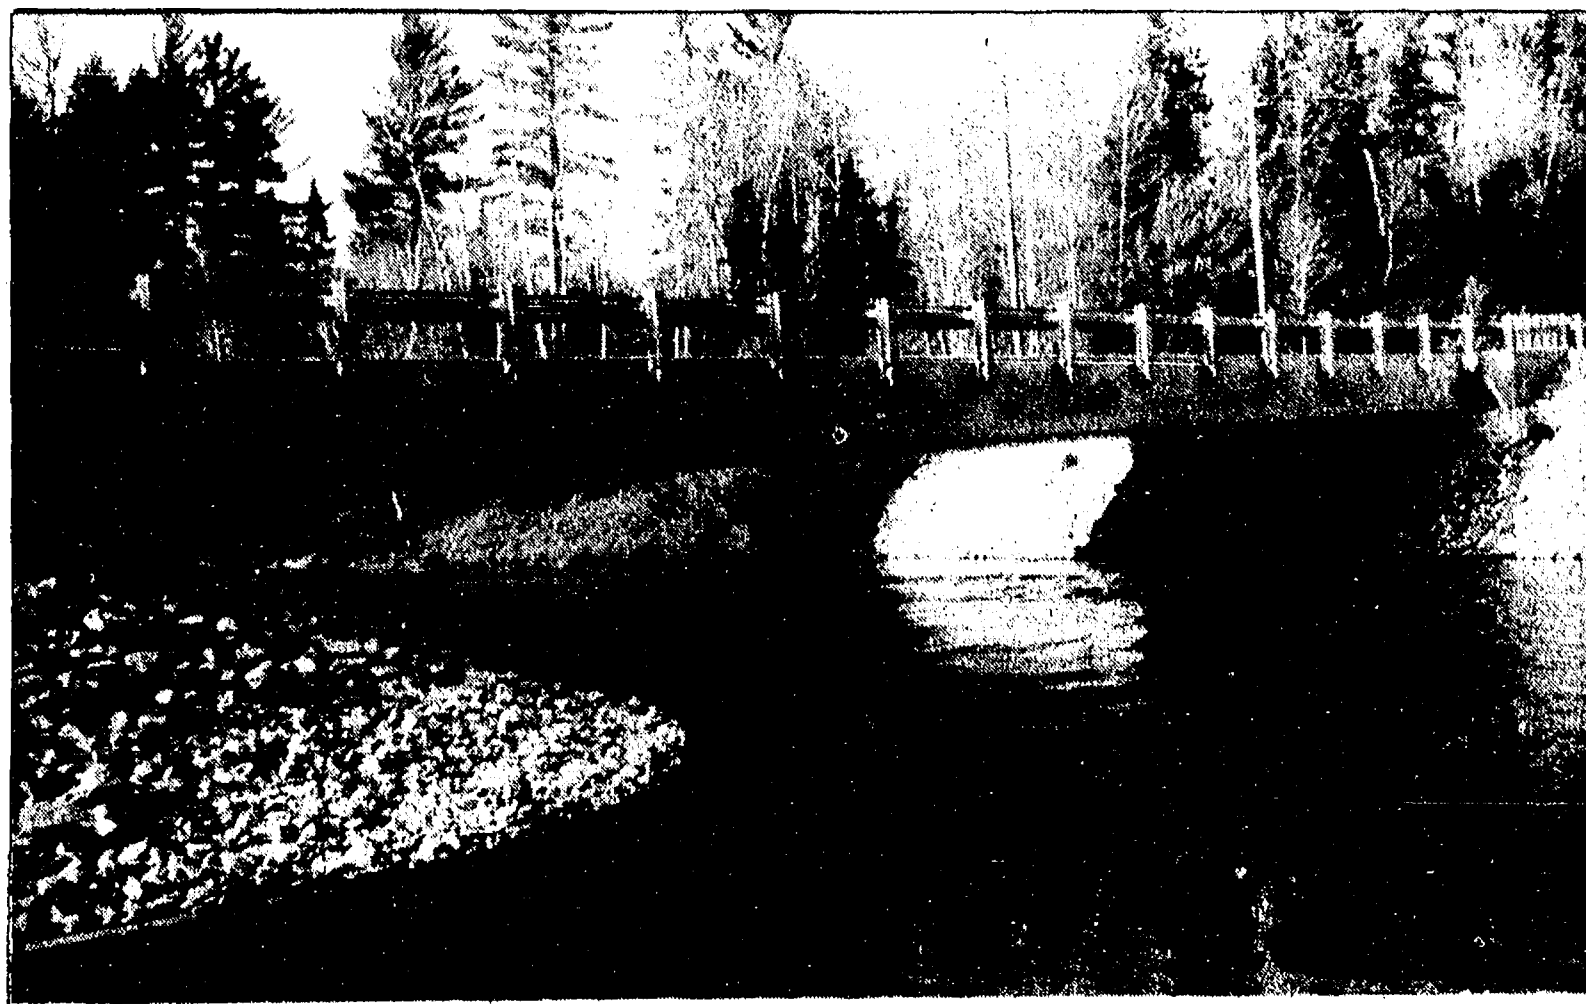

They purchased a kerosene heater and, with their small fireplace, tried to keep their home warm enough to keep the pipes from freezing. Even with the two heat sources, Janice said, at one point, the temperature inside was 42 degrees.

"It was so cold inside that my teeth were chattering," she said. "It's really bad when you have to sit in the car and let it run, just to get warm."

But it was not cold enough to save the food in the Wildes' freezer and refrigerator.

Before electricity was restored, the Wildes estimate the power outage cost them approximately almost $400 and that did not include lost wages for missed work.

BRIDGE DEDICATION--Representative Ralph Ostling (sixth from the left), Crawford County Road Commissioners Norman Parker, Gloria Kraus, and Clyde Anthony, Ken Chapp, County Commissioner Robert Nelson, and several McMasters Bridge Road residents turned out Friday, November 2, to officially open the newly constructed McMasters Bridge. A three ton load limit had been placed on the bridge two years ago making it impossible for school buses, fire trucks, ambulances, and garbage trucks to use it.

2 Hunters Spend Night In Woods

James Perez, 23, from Westland, and David Curtis, 50, from Redford, walked out of the woods near Curtis' cabin on Howes Lake Road Tuesday morning after becoming lost on Monday while they were tracking a deer.

Two hunting companions reported the bow hunters missing to the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. Tuesday morning and a search was started. DNR conservation officers and a Coast Guard helicopter assisted Sheriff deputies.

About an hour later the hunters found their own way out of the woods and were on their way home when they spotted the DNR unit.

The hunters said they had left the Curtis cabin about 11 a.m. on Monday to track a deer and had gotten lost. They said they tried to back track but kept winding up back at a river. Finally they decided to make camp and wait for morning.

Both men said they were all right, even though temperatures dipped to about 24 degrees Monday night.

Chamber Sponsors Red Bow Promotion

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring a Holiday Promotion for any interested Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce Member Business. Each participating Retail business will be given a large Red Bow to be placed on their front door or displayed in their front window. The Red Bow signifies that this business is participating in the Chamber's Red Bow Promotion, and that patrons of the store have the opportunity to win a $100 shopping spree at one of the participating stores. For a minimal fee of $15 merchants will receive a large decorated box to be utilized for the drawing (of course decorated with a red bow), and several registration/entry blank sheets for the drawing.

The Red Bow Promotion is scheduled to kick off Sunday, November 17, with the Grayling Christmas Walk. All Chamber Member Businesses are welcome to participate. Ten dollars from each entry fee will be put toward a cash prize to be awarded on Saturday night, December 15, as part of the Olde Thyme Grayling Christmas Promotion.

Power Out For Days

"I couldn't leave the house without heat," said Janice, "and I didn't dare leave two open fires unattended."

The Wildes said they were upset that Top-O-Michigan employees either did not have current information on the situation, or were not giving it to customers who called.

"Each time we called them the story varied," said Janice, "depending on who we talked to."

Guzniczak said Top-O-Michigan had people available to answer questions, but because of tie-up with long distance service, some customers were unable to contact them.

Those who did call and had serious problems because of the cold and heavy snow were encouraged to contact their area law enforcement agencies.

Guzniczak said during the power outage, Top-O-Michigan had contacted several supermarkets to ask them to accept customers' meats to keep it from spoiling.

Seat Belts, Air Bag Prevent Serious Injuries

Three Grayling men were injured in a two car accident Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6, on M-72 East.

Clarence (Whitney) Burse, 68, Lewis Sorenson, 59, and Harrison Goodhue, 83, were all taken by Crawford County Ambulance Corps to Mercy Hospital for treatment.

The accident occurred at approximately 5:54 p.m. when Burse, who was plowing snow, backed his truck into the roadway directly in front of the car, driven by Goodhue.

At first deputies thought the Jaws of Life would have to be used to remove the accident victims, but it was not necessary.

Sheriff deputies said Goodhue received only minor injuries because he was using his seat belt and was cushioned by his car's air bag system.

Deputies said alcohol was not a factor in this accident and that Burse and his passenger, Lewis Sorenson, were injured only slightly because they also were using their seat belts.

Grayling Man Injured Early Sunday Morning

A Grayling man was injured early Sunday morning, November 11, when he walked into the path of an oncoming car.

Norman Lee Cady, 52, was walking westbound on M-72 at about 1:43 a.m. when he suddenly stepped into the roadway, striking the side of a vehicle driven by Mark Dennis Millikin, 30, also of Grayling.

Crawford County deputies arrived at the scene as Millikin and his passenger were pushing their disabled vehicle out of the roadway near Evergreen Drive.

Cady was transported to Mercy Hospital for treatment of multiple fractures.

Millikin was not found at fault and, according to Sheriff deputies, alcohol was a factor in the pedestrian stepping into Millikin's vehicle.

The increase in City Ordinance Violations is due to the recent snowfall and illegal parking in the downtown area.

Chief of Police Peter Stephan said all cars are to be parked off the downtown streets between 3 and 6 a.m. to allow city employees to plow. He said violators can be given a city ordinance ticket ($5) or a state citation that could cost between $20 and $30.

Persons who habitually leave their vehicles on the streets during restricted hours will probably be issued state citations. These vehicles may also be towed away and the owner will have to pay a fine and towing and storage costs.

Ambulance Service

for several weeks preparing for start-up and overseeing the construction of a 2,100 square foot addition on the Dial-a-ride facility. The addition will be large enough to hold four ambulances, living quarters for the technicians, and equipment and supply storage. Estimated completion cost is $80,000.

The contracted management services will include Frederick's administrative skills, rental of space, and clerical duties. Wakeley said the ambulance service would be purchasing some software for billing purposes.

"Dave has good management skills and abilities," said Wakeley, "and his track record with the Dial-a-ride system proves it."

Wakeley said in 1983 Frederick took a financially shaky transportation system and made it sound. Today dial-a-ride's financial records show an adequate fund balance.

"If there is a person who can get money out of a stone he's the guy that can do it."

Crawford County Transit Authority board member Curt Jansen has some reservations about the Dial-a-ride and ambulance union.

"Dial-a-ride has a fiscally sound system," said Jansen, "and I am concerned that taking on the extra management duties for the ambulance may jeopardize that stability."

Jansen said he was also a little upset that after months of planning by AuSable Valley EMS, the CCTA board had only three or four days after the ambulance board made its presentation to decide whether or not to take on its management.

He said he doesn't have any problem with the agreement between the two boards and said it makes sense not to duplicate services.

"We will manage the system for less money than anyone else can and collect more money, too," Jansen stated.

Jansen said by hiring a billing clerk experienced in dealing with insurance companies, he thinks they will be able to increase collection rates by 15 percent.

Crawford County Transit Authority board members are Bill Ruddy, Jeanette Kitchen, Ruth O'Mara, and Curt Jansen.

"It is our objective to develop a first rate, cost effective ambulance system," said Frederick. "In achieving this objective, we will be attempting to cross utilize employees, equipment, and facilities."

We are already in the transportation business and we can offer a facility with services AuSable Valley will not have to duplicate."

Frederick said the Dial-a-ride system can offer mechanics, a hoist, a working office with a five-line communication system, and computer hardware.

Another benefit to the combined programs, according to Frederick, is that training will be taking place at the Dial-a-ride facility and hopefully bus drivers will take an interest and will learn basic first aid and CPR. Then if problems occur while they are out in the county, they could, in time, with appropriate training, serve as emergency help until an ambulance arrives.

Frederick's salary for his added responsibilities will increase from $29,519 per year to $37,500.

To those concerned that locating the ambulances at the Dial-a-ride facility on North Down River Road will increase response time, Wakeley said he believes its response time will be as good as the current system that has ambulances dispatched while being driven throughout the city and even Camp Grayling.

Frederick said he has already received permission from the Michigan State Police for the ambulances to access I-75 north and south via the northbound entrance and use an emergency cross-over to go south, eliminating the need to go through Grayling.

Wakeley said the one-year contractual agreement for management services between the county, hospital, and AuSable Valley was almost ready for signatures.

That proposed agreement includes the deeding over of the county's ambulances to AuSable Valley EMS. Mercy Hospital is to contribute a cash investment for use in upgrading the new ambulance service from basic life support to advanced life support. Both agencies will take on equal responsibility for any deficit incurred by AuSable Valley EMS.

Board of Directors for AuSable Valley EMS are: Mickey Perez, Phil Verdue, Noreen Davis, Mark Cook, Mike Branch, Joseph Wakeley, and Dr. Alan Bersted.

The proposed agreement between City of Grayling and the county's townships provides for the replacement of the ambulances. Their contributions will be made according to population based on the 1980 census.

Wakeley said the ambulance committee decided not to try to supplement the cost of operating AuSable Valley EMS through a tax millage request because they did not feel it would be approved by voters.

"People are tapped out," he said.

New projected ambulance fees show a slight increase over those charged by the county service. AuSable Valley EMS has eliminated the resident/non-resident difference in charges and went with a flat $265 plus $4 per load mile fee.

Another benefit of organizing a totally new ambulance service for residents is that reimbursements from Medicaid and Medicare will increase, lessening out of pocket expenses for the user of the service.

Wakeley said Medicare is currently reimbursing about $34 and under the new screening it should increase to about $100.

Wakeley said he never dreamed it would take so long to organize the new ambulance service.

"When you are dealing back and forth between different agencies, dealing with different schedules, it all takes time," he said. "But things have a way of working out for the best."

He said the purpose of the ambulance committee was to put into place the best possible pre-hospital system to meet the needs of the community and still be feasible for our rural area. Something that would stand the test of time and not need to be reorganized in six or eight months.

"I think we have done that," he concluded.

Opinions

Let's Talk About It by Joe Murphy

Those few beautiful autumn days we had the first part of November were a real nice change. Folks seemed to find a lot of things to keep them outside to enjoy those last balmy days of the year. After the wet cold summer those nice days seemed like a gift from our Dear Lord. We know they are fleeting but it just seems to make us more aware and thankful for them. The memory of those beautiful days can lighten our hearts during the coldest days of winter.

I really wish I could work up the enthusiasm for the fast approaching deer season I had back years ago. In those days I would have been counting down by day, hours, and minutes till day break the first morning. When I was a kid I don't believe I slept at all the night before the opener. I can remember lying there waiting for the long, long night to end. Mom and Dad knew I was too excited to sleep so they would get up much earlier than necessary. Mom would fix a big breakfast. At last it was time to put on the clothes I had laid out so carefully the night before. Soon Dad and I would be off for the farm to do our morning chores. Then came that long wait till the first streaks of dawn. As soon as I could see enough to walk in the woods I was off to one of the spots I had spent many hours selecting. It seemed that nine times out of ten another hunter would have the same idea and wind up sitting close by. That would send me off to another spot where some other hunter was already sitting.

In those days there were a lot of hunters and right from the first light the shooting was coming from all directions. In those days the deer would get moving and it was common to see forty or fifty deer the first morning. The hills between our farm and Deward were all open and the deer all headed for the thicket behind the farm in search of cover. That thicket for about two or three days was just full of deer, then almost overnight the deer were gone. But while they were there we enjoyed great hunting. Now with all the cover there is out there deer hunting has changed. Of course, there are not many hunters but even if there were they could not get the deer moving as they once did. Now about the best way is to ambush them at a bait pile but the old man just can't do it that way. I still try to hunt the old way, sneaking and pecking, but the old dogs give out on me and I wind up stump sitting and maybe throw out a few sugar beets to try to at least see a deer or two.

Writer Says Support For Ambulance Needed Now

To the Editor:

Where will the county ambulance be when you need it? For the last 15 years the Crawford County Ambulance has served you well. First with an all volunteer staff that had to come from home, day and night, sometimes leaving their regular jobs; but always there; because they cared. Today the Crawford County Ambulance is still there to serve you, day and night, but with an on-duty crew, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, in order to give you faster service in your time of need, and they still care! In 1975 when Crawford County Ambulance first started covering this area, they cared for approximately 170 patients; this year the number of patients will approach 900.

I wish I could tell you that when you call for the ambulance next year someone will be there to care for you or your loved ones, but I can't do that. The Board of Commissioners in their infinite wisdom have decided that they no longer want to provide that service for you. A year ago a board was selected to put together a private non-profit ambulance service so that the county service could be dissolved, relieving the commissioners of an unwanted burden. The health and welfare of our friends and family should not be looked upon as a burden; the EMT's that perform that service don't consider your welfare to be a burden.

Members of the Crawford County Ambulance Corps are constantly training and trying to upgrade their skills in order to better serve the community. Ambulance personnel have recently been trained in the use of automatic defibrillators which are now on the ambulance. The purpose of these machines is to shock a heart that has stopped, and hopefully save a life that would otherwise be lost. The emergency medical technicians that give so much of themselves — training, time away from their families, giving up holidays, braving all kinds of weather, and personal injury — aren't doing this for the glory. There is none, they do it because they care.

For the last year these EMT's have been told on a monthly basis that they would be done the next month. There have been at least ten separate closing dates in the last year. In spite of it all, some of them are still showing up daily to work eight, 16, or 24 hours shifts while sitting in a garage without restrooms, beds, or cooking facilities. The job certainly doesn't pay well, so why are they still here? Because of you!

The Board of the newly organized service finally hired Dave Frederick as manager after ten months of planning. Mr. Frederick is already manager of Dial-A-Ride, a county funded project. He did manage the airport, also within Crawford County, and he is not even a county resident; he lives in Kalkaska County. Mr. Frederick has no medical or ambulance service background, and he is deciding your health care future! Mr. Frederick is moving the Ambulance out to North Down River Road to become a part of the transit building. This will add considerably to the response times into the city of Grayling, Beaver Creek Township, and anything east or west M72; the extra 3-4 minutes become very important when seconds count.

Throughout this entire planning stage the members of the County Ambulance have been kept totally uninformed as to what the future holds for them. Mr. Frederick, while keeping the North Flight Ambulance apprised of developments, including access to the blueprints for the new building, has stated on more than one occasion that he was specifically requested by the County Commissioners not to talk to Crawford County Ambulance employees. Why? The North Flight Critical Care Ambulance is not a community ambulance. They are here only to transport critical care patients from hospital to hospital and are not available for anything else; yet they are being kept up to date on the status of the new service.

Many people have expressed an interest in having a millage placed on the ballot for the purpose of supporting the county ambulance. The commissioners have not responded to this request citing the failed attempt a few years ago when the people turned it down due to poor timing, insufficient promotion, and a lack of understanding as to what it would involve financially. At that time it would have cost each property owner an additional $35 to 40 per year and given them unlimited ambulance service. This is especially important to those on fixed incomes, specifically the older citizens who frequently have chronic illnesses and need to call the ambulance on a fairly regular basis. This will not directly affect the citizens of Frederic and Maple Forest townships, as they already operate on a millage for the Frederic Volunteer Ambulance.

The issue that has been at the forefront lately regarding the loss of physicians in our area is indeed an important one and one we definitely need to correct, but the ambulance issue is of at least equal importance. If a patient is not properly and expeditiously cared for prior to their arrival at the hospital, the doctor's job becomes more difficult and the patient's prognosis more grim.

Crawford County Ambulance Corps has always made that difference and should continue to do so. Please call or write your county commissioner or the Avalanche to express your concerns on keeping a strong county ambulance operating. This is your ambulance; if it is going to continue to be there for you, you have to be there for it now!

Resident Feels Cable TV Rate Increase Is Too High

To All C-Tec Cable Subscribers:

As most of us are well aware of by now, our basic cable subscription rate is going up again to 18.95 per month. This increase comes after our very recent increase from $11 a month to $16.50 a month. This increase seems unjustified considering that our overall picture quality has not improved. Some days the cable reception is very good while other days it is like viewing television with a very poor outside antennae.

We are paying for promises which are not kept. The picture quality has not improved and we are not receiving all of the channels we are being charged for. Channel 24, the Weather Channel, is still not broadcasting, but we are paying for it. No credit has ever showed up on a bill. But in contrast, order a premium service at the end of the month. You will be billed for each and every day you receive the channel. There is no grace period for the customer as there appears to be for C-Tec.

In addition, for those of us who have stereo televisions, have you noticed that the cable guide tells of all the television programs and movies that we can watch in stereo. Well we can't. The only stations which are in stereo are FOX, NBC, and CBS. When I called C-Tec to question this, I was told that it would cost them too much money to broadcast the stations in stereo, even though they tell us in their own cable guide they are in stereo. What happened to the "state of the art" cable system we were supposed to get?

How long are we going to allow C-Tec cable to gouge us? A 72% increase for basic cable since the new system was installed is unjust considering the lack of services and mediocre picture quality we must endure. A 9-14% price increase for most premium channels seems high in that we now have to spend $1.00 for a guide to tell us what is available on these channels. With the price of the guide, this actually comes to a 18-23% increase for premium service. Recently a neighbor was charged $45.00 to have cable transferred from the previous owners name to their name. The cable company's justification of this charge was to compensate them for coming out and checking the lines to the house. Nobody ever came.

As consumers we must stand up for ourselves. What we need is for everybody to call C-Tec and complain. Write letters to the editor, and cancel services as some of my friends have done. If we don't take action now, C-Tec cable will continue with these rate increases and we will have no one to blame but ourselves.

Reader Proud Of Vikings Newcomer Appreciates Community's Support

To the Editor:

Anyone who attended the Grayling versus Freeland football game will likely agree that this was a great game. Both sides got to cheer, but if Freeland started out thinking they had this one sewed up, soon found out this was not the case.

Our Vikings played their hearts out and even though the final score was a squeaker, 19-20, favor of Freeland, hold your heads high Vikings, it was not a piece of cake for them. You played an outstanding game then and all season.

More public pay raises probable

IT DOESN'T MAKE any difference which candidates for a variety of Michigan state offices won election Nov. 6 — they're already probably headed for more money.

The higher pay rates are thanks to Michigan's weirdo system for setting pay levels for governor, lieutenant governor, legislators and supreme court justices.

Every two years — after the biennial state elections but before new terms begin the following January — a non-partisan seven-person appointed group known as the State Officers Compensation Commission meets to decide how much money state officials should be paid.

This has been going on since 1968, when the voters amended the state constitution to create the commission. In theory, it may be a good idea; the way it has worked out, however, has caused many taxpayers to question the wisdom of 1968 voters.

THE IDEA IS THAT a group of public-spirited and well-informed citizens regularly would take a look at how much public officials are being paid, listen to economists and other experts, hear from citizens, and then adjust pay levels according to what they found.

Then the commission would submit its findings to the legislature for study. If the lawmakers agreed, they could adopt them; if they disagreed, they would turn them down. And if they did nothing, the findings would become law.

The legislators are not allowed to change the recommendations.

Thus, according to the theory, the sticky question of setting pay levels for elected officials would have input from informed citizens, and would be insulation from politics. By coming after the election each two years, the question of pay levels would be kept out of the campaigns.

It all sounds great. But how does it actually work?

REGARDLESS OF WHAT'S been going on in the Michigan economy — and generally, it has not been great since 1968 — regardless of the performance of the public officials — which also, according to many observers, has not been great since 1968 — every two years except in 1972, the commission has recommended higher pay.

Never has the legislature rejected a recommended pay raise.

To the Editor:

This is in response to a recent letter regarding the difficulty that a "newcomer" has in getting acceptance in our community.

During the recent election, I was recruited to run for the County Commissioner District 2 vacancy by many people and it was only through their encouragement and support did I, a "newcomer" make the difficult decision to run for this office knowing full well that my chances were slim, but also realizing the importance of maintaining a woman's position on the County Board of Commissioners.

All in all it was a very positive experience and I was never criticized for being new in the community and unknown. I cannot express my pleasure at meeting so many wonderful people that were willing to help me and to vote for me even though many of them didn't even know me and I wasn't a native.

We didn't win, but we sure tried — and there will be another election in two years when, hopefully, we can adequately prepare and win a seat on the Board of Commissioners so that a woman's voice can again be heard in Crawford County.

How wonderful you all are for accepting me so graciously!

Nice To Know People Still Care

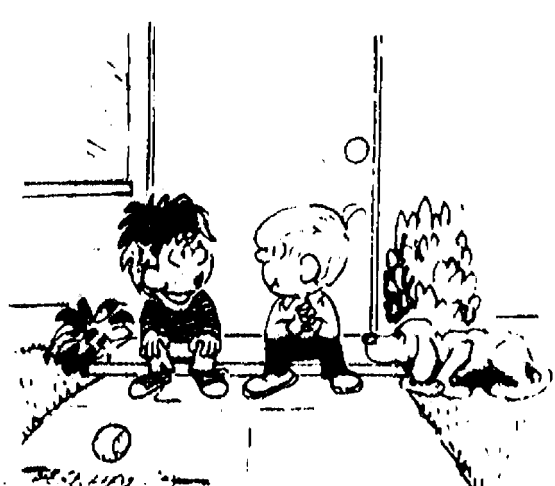

Dear Editor:

I would just like to take a minute to thank three gentlemen who stopped and took the time to give some assistance on a very lousy day. On November 5th at about 9:30 a.m., on 612 just before Sherman Road, my car went off the road. A car and a truck stopped, made sure me, my sister, and our kids were okay. Then they proceeded to find out the best way to get my car back on the road. While the guy with the truck pulled my car out, the other two men sat in their car with my sister and the two kids. We just wanted to let these men know, whoever they were, that they are greatly appreciated for what they did. It's nice to know that there are still people out there who are willing to stop and help people who are in trouble.

"To reward you for being good, seems to me they should let you be a little bad."

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen

I admired my husband Dave's drywalling work the other day.

"How did you ever learn to do that?" I asked, referring to his seemingly correct choices of materials and method.

"My father helped me," he responded. His father had possessed impressive and extensive home improvement skills, it was true. But he had been dead for more than a year.

"What do you mean?" I pressed. Did you used to watch him do drywalling or did he tell you how to do it before he died?"

"Neither," Dave replied. "I called on him to help me today and he did."

A ghost. He was talking about a ghost. I believed him. And I accepted his explanation. For I, too, choose to believe in ghosts.

Not the cutey, white, friendly, Casper type. Nor the sheet-encased, Halloween, spooky, haunted house type. And surely not the slimy, disfigured, risen-from-the-grave scary type. The ghosts I believe exist are much more mundane. They are simply the living spirits of people who are now dead. Their personae were so strong—or they meant so much or they were so close to someone—that their being-ness lingers on for the survivors.

They continue to exert an influence. They continue to help. They continue to love.

I am not alone in my belief in ghosts.

Our culture—as well as the cultures of many other countries—is replete with references to ghosts... in our legends, our literature, our celebrations, our movies, our art, our plays.

One of my students is so accustomed to the ghost of his grandmother inhabiting his house that her existence has become commonplace. And another of my students swears to have seen her sitting on the couch when he visited the home.

An acquaintance, a widow, used to see her husband suddenly in different rooms of their home in the months after he died from a heart attack.

Another woman I know who lost her husband as a newlywed used to see and talk with him night after night as he stood dressed at the foot of their bed.

I think even my own father, who was as pragmatic and down-to-earth as anyone, believed in ghosts. In spite of the fact that he was the moving force behind my family's weekly attendance at church, he once explained to me that his interpretation of everlasting life was different from that of our religion.

Eternal life, he believed, was the continuity of one's spirit—through his friends and family—that lived on after the person had died.

I think my father might agree with me that the ghosts I believe in are the embodiment of the living spirits of people now dead.

OTHER COMMUNICATION MODES

It was my dad, also, who opened up for me the possibility of other senses, other dimensions, other interpretations. My dad believed in E.S.P., extra-sensory perception.

His theory was that, as humans evolved, most of us had lost a sixth (or extra) sense, whatever it had been. But some humans retained it to a degree. These were the people with extra-sensory powers.

And why not? Why should we suppose that we can communicate only through our five human senses?

Surely the rest of the animals and even the plant kingdom have shown us that there are other modes of communication than we humans use.

The dolphins' clicks, the wolves' howls, the deer's snorts, the insects' rubbing are only a very few examples. I read recently that even trees communicate. When one tree is attacked by bugs it gives off a signal to nearby trees to release their natural repellent agents to fend off the attacks.

Why conclude, then, that communication stops when life as we know it stops? Couldn't there be other levels or planes or dimensions of existence and, therefore, other modes of communication taking place?

Perhaps ghosts exist for people who retain to a degree the ability to use a different sense or style of communication, now atrophied in most of us.

OTHER EXPLANATIONS

Or perhaps there are other explanations for the existence of ghosts. Maybe they are simply supercharged memories of the people we loved. I cannot cut a lilac, for example, without being aware of the presence of my Grandma Wagner. As I watch my columbine bloom in June, I feel as though my Grandmother Stodola is beside me.

Perhaps they are characters in our dreams. Our dogs come back to Dave, for example, as he sleeps. He sees them, talks to them, and is sometimes permitted to touch them in his dream world.

Perhaps they are simply common sense. As Dave attempted to begin a home improvement project, he might have said to himself, "What would Dad have done here?" And the answer, which maybe came from within him, seemed to be coming from his father.

Or perhaps ghosts exist in ways that we do not even possess the vocabulary to explain or the experience to fathom. Maybe it is best to avoid overanalyzing an experience with a ghost and simply enjoy the company.

I have tried since May to invite the ghosts of my dogs to come back to me. I stood by their graves and talked to them. I walked their land and waited for the breezes to brush them to me. I called their names into the darkness when I heard a dog crying in the distance. I waited patiently for them to present themselves in my dreams.

Still they refuse to come to me. But for their own reasons rather than for any lack of belief on my part.

Whatever the explanation for their existence is, I choose to believe in ghosts.

And, furthermore, I believe that it is the most fortunate among us who have the power—or possess the sensitivity or know the old ways, or whatever it takes—that enables them to call up the spirits.

I envy them.

Saving Planet Earth

By Carol Wakeley

I wrote not long ago about the tropical rainforests. But there is another side of the issue that I failed to mention. It is about the migrant songbirds—warblers, thrushes, vireos, orioles, and tanagers to name a few. They winter in the Caribbean, Central and South America, and come north in April and May to nest each summer. With the disappearance of the rainforests, the birds are disappearing too.

It's a disaster that most of us are not aware of. But if you are a bird watcher, you may have noticed that the number of pairs of a certain species of bird may have decreased. Multiply that by millions, and you can see the tragedy of it. The species are slowly dwindling. For birds, migration is problem enough. It is exhausting and can be fatal if ocean winds blow in the wrong direction. The birds must have a good layer of fat, for that is the fuel. After going through the stress of migration only to find their winter home cut or burned, is devastating to the well-being of the birds. With 74,000 acres being cleared everyday worldwide, more and more birds are being forced to try and survive in other surroundings.

Most wildlife usually mentioned as being threatened by deforestation are the species seen in zoos or museums. Those that are hardly ever mentioned are the songbirds. The only reason for their survival is because they can migrate to warmer climates south of us. Other non-songbirds that depend on the tropics for survival are the hummingbirds, swifts, and some species of hawks. When all these species make it back to the south for winter and find their habitat destroyed, they become "floaters." They go from area to area, feeding before being driven out by the residing species. They must always be looking for new nesting areas, defending themselves against predators, and find enough food for their young. If they are near cowbirds, the young cowbirds, which grow much faster than others, end up pushing other birds right out of the nest. Here in Michigan, the cowbird affects the Kirtland's Warbler. But the reason the cowbird is even here is because of deforestation.

We do have treaties to protect migratory birds, but it applies mostly to ducks and other game birds. The treaties need to be reinforced. We also need to protect our own forests. It ends up becoming a difficult and delicate political problem. People living in rainforest areas need to be educated about their wildlife. They need to know the consequences of the cutting and burning of their forests. We all have to think about what is going on worldwide and then act locally. We can discourage fragmentation of local woods and parks. Every time a new trail is put in or an area cleared, it exposes nests that the songbirds need to protect their young from predators.

On your own property there is a lot you can do. If you have a few acres, let some of it overgrow. Other species can only forage in heavy undergrowth. By planting native trees and bushes you can attract the insects that the songbirds are used to preying upon. But for this to work, you have to oppose the use of pesticides. The majority of the songbirds can feed on nothing but insects.

Report any sighting of tagged, or banded birds. Biologists mark the birds to trace their migration routes and in turn preserve their habitats. Report information to: Bird Banding, Laurel, Maryland, 20708. If you find a dead bird, remove the tag or band and send it with information on possible cause of death.

Finally, do not buy products made of rosewood, mahogany, teak, liano, or other tropical woods. Support organizations working in Central and South America. Here are some of them: National Audubon Society, International Department, 801 Pennsylvania Avenue SE, Suite 301, Washington D.C., 20003. The Nature Conservancy International Program, 1785 Massachusetts Avenue NW, Washington D.C., 20036. Rainforest Action Network, 300 Broadway, Suite 28, San Francisco, California, 94133.

Abandoned Taylors Celebrate 50th Anniversary Kittens Reported

Crawford County Animal Control Officer Marge Mathew reports that there has been a rash of litters of kittens abandoned throughout the county this fall.

"It's gross," Deputy Mathew says bluntly. "They get run over; they freeze at night; dogs get them."

Cats that are dropped off in the woods become feral killing the area's wild animals and birds in order to survive.

She encourages Crawford County residents to bring unwanted litters of kittens to the animal shelter at 508 1/2 Huron Street.

Even if they're euthanized, Mathew says, at least that's a more humane death than getting run over and being left half-dead.

Also, the shelter presently has lots of "really cute, nice kittens" waiting to be adopted by loving people.

Pastor and Doris Taylor celebrated their 50th Anniversary November 2. They were married in Rodney, Michigan, on his father's farm.

A party was held on October 13, at St. Mary's Center, in Grayling, given by their children, with 150 guests.

Among those attending were Dave and Melody, Caroline and Robert Smith, Janice and Wayne Becksboost, Philip, Pat and Morley Schuam, Debbie and Robert Strong, Steven and Tracy, Tim, Judy and Brian Hulbert and Tom and Rose. There are 29 grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and one step great-grandchild. Twenty-five of those were present. A special card from grandson Danny Smith and family, who is in the Army stationed in Germany.

At a Sunday morning service Pastor Jim Wright presented them with a plaque for their anniversary, from the First Baptist Church, where Pastor Taylor also served as a minister for 12 1/2 years.

Bits of Talk By Fay Bovee

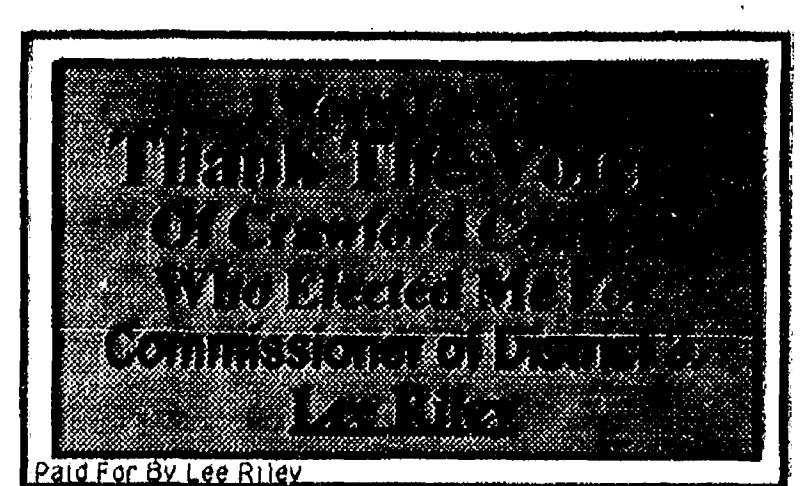

Don Bentley wrote his mother that 800 lbs. of military servicemen mail got burned in a tent fire. He received four of her letters that were burned, but the address was still visible.

One G.I. had to be hospitalized because he was bit by a black scorpion, he was in critical condition, but recovered nicely. Another G.I. killed a three foot cobra in their tent, the snake was sand colored with red eyes. They sleep on cots now.

He called his mother October 27th, and his sister November 3rd. He also said when mail does go through he is one on the lucky ones who receives mail from the Grayling Elementary School, 5th graders, as well as family and friends from Grayling and Germany. The mail helps fight loneliness. He thanks everyone for thinking of him and for their prayers.

Phyllis Bond of Lansing has been spending several weeks with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson of South Haven spent weekend before last visiting his mother, Mrs. Ruth Robertson. Last week Rev. Joe Robertson of East Tawas came to visit and last weekend Ruth's daughter and husband, Sylvia and Gerald Krausz, of Portland came to visit.

Art Thayer called last week to say that a robin must have been playing around the yard and on their feeder, and this is since we had the foot of snow! Which local hunter threw his good hunting clothes in the garbage? We hope he's as lucky getting his deer as he was getting his clothes back from the compactor and landfill. Can you imagine sorting through bags of deer entrails and disposable diapers in search of camouflage clothes? Well, that's what Jack actually did at the landfill and found them, the bag had not even been tied, no holes in the bag, absolutely not a speck of garbage on the clothing and the Aladdin thermos was completely intact.

Byron Randolph is back home recovering from open heart surgery performed at Munson Medical Center, Traverse City, on November 4. He is doing well and would enjoy hearing from his friends.

Mary has just received an ornamental glass menagerie of blown glass figurines in time for the holiday season. The pieces include Christmas tree ornaments, a wishing well, an old water pump, a spinning wheel, a bird bath with three birds, carousel and rocking horses, and all kinds of miniature birds and animals. Each piece is beautifully hand crafted by Dennis Heller of Lapeer. They are priced from $7 to $37.

One entire wall is devoted to a variety of crocheted Character Bears dressed as golfers, doctors, nurses, ballet dancers, artists, lumber jacks, boxers, cowboys, bowlers, graduates, soldiers, bakers, waitresses, chefs, fishermen and skiers. There are even Mr. & Mrs. Santa Claus mice and Mr. & Mrs. Santa Claus bears. If there is

Sunglasses for Windows

"It's like putting sunglasses on a window," says David Biblar, about applying Lumar solar controlled window films.

The micro-thin, polyester-nylon films are virtually invisible when properly applied to existing windows.

"But the films block as much as 80% of the heat in summer and retains as much as 65% of the heat in the winter," says Biblar, co-owner of Quality Window Tinting in Traverse City, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo with his wife Judy.

Three types of films - reflective, non-reflective and Low E series are available, all of which virtually eliminate the ultra-violet rays which cause sun rot, fading and sun glare. These films are all covered by a 7 year warranty.

Quality Window Tinting also installs solar control film on motor homes and passenger vehicles. All installations come with a lifetime guarantee.

Mercy Hospital Plans 2nd 'Lights Of Love' Tree

With the holiday season fast approaching, the Mercy Hospital/Grayling Auxiliary is sponsoring the second annual "Lights Of Love" tree.

An evergreen tree planted last spring on the hospital grounds, in tribute to Dr. Charles Oppy of Roscommon, retired after more than 30 years with Mercy Hospital, will be decorated with hundreds of Christmas lights. These lights will be lit through donations from individuals, organizations, and businesses. Every donation of $5 or more in honor or memory of someone special, will light a bulb on the tree, and the name of the honoree will be displayed in the hospital lobby throughout the 1990 holiday season. Donations of $25 or more will be classified as Silver and amounts in excess of $100 will be identified as Golden donors.

On behalf of the donor, the Auxiliary will send an acknowledgment card that can be hung on the Christmas tree of the person being honored. In addition, those honored and those who are contributors to the Lights of Love tree are invited to attend the Tree Lighting Ceremony on Friday, December 14, at 6 p.m., in front of the hospital, with a reception immediately following.

The Auxiliary hopes to light at least 500 bulbs this year, using the proceeds to aid in the renovation of the hospital emergency room. The Auxiliary encourages the public to participate in this very special community event. Through community support, the Lights of Lovetree will shine brightly.

For further information, or to obtain a donor envelope, you may contact Chairperson Joyce Vogelsberg, 348-5006, or Donna Pflum, Volunteer Services Coordinator at 348-5461, ext. 193.

PROMOTED—Two residents of the Grayling area have recently attained the rank of Chief Petty Officer. Chief Boiler Technician Arnold Gilman, right, and Chief Quartermaster James Crawford are two of the nine who were recognized for their promotion while in drill status at the Naval Reserve Center, Cadillac. CPO Crawford entered the Navy in 1969 and has been a drilling reservist in Cadillac since 1980. Crawford and his wife, Quin, came from the Royal Oak area of Michigan. CPO Gilman entered the service in 1970, prior to graduating from Grayling High School in 1971, and affiliated with the reserve center in 1973. He is maintenance supervisor of AJD Forest Products and lives with his wife, the former Janet Murphy, on East Park Drive in Grayling. Crawford's grandfather is Robert D. Lovell of Grayling.

JVs Notch Best Record In League

The Grayling High School girls junior varsity basketball team closed their 1990 season with an impressive 49-23 victory over Rogers City on November 9 and an unblemished 8-0 conference record.

Leading scorer for the evening was sophomore Sarah Micek with 22 points. She was, in fact, the season's high scorer with a total of 157 points. "Sarah did an excellent job this year," said her coach, Dallas Hudson.

Sophomore Heather Millikin and freshman Jamie Andrus scored seven apiece; freshmen Mande Micek and Darcie McCurdy, four apiece; sophomore Val Schans, three; and freshman Jessica McClain, two.

Actually Grayling had a flat first half, said Coach Hudson, and were down two points (16-14) at the end of the second quarter.

But that was about all the slack the Vikings cut the Hurons. "The girls were determined in the second half, and came out and played their normal defense, taking over control of the ball game," continued Hudson.

By the end of third period, the Vikings were leading, 33-18, allowing Rogers City only two points. Then they outscored the Hurons, 16-5, in the fourth quarter.

Both McClain and freshman Sue Lovely were brought up from the 9th grade team to complete the JV season, and both "did a real nice job," said Hudson.

This win gives the junior varsity squad an undefeated record in the league and a 14-4 overall record.

"We had a very successful season and I was real, real pleased with the girls' performance this year," concluded Hudson. "They played as a team all year long; they played well together."

Vikings Win Big Over Rogers City 55-34

The Grayling High School girls varsity basketball team closed their season with a big 55-34 victory over conference opponent Rogers City.

The Vikings jumped into the lead in the first quarter and never relinquished it. At half-time, GHS led by 14 (24-10), and by the end of the game had gained a 21-point lead.

Senior Nikki Morrill led in the scoring column with 25 points. Senior Heather Stephenson followed closely with 21. Sophomore Amy Vandecar added four, seniors Claudine Allen and Krista Wyman had two each, and sophomore Elissa Cox made one.

Heather Stephenson and Nikki Morrill had their best combined effort for the year—offensively and defensively—against Rogers City, said Coach Howard Lehti. "They both had exceptional games."

Stephenson was seven for ten at the foul line and Morrill was five for seven. In all, Grayling made 59 percent of their free throws.

The Vikings played strong defense and were much, much quicker than Rogers City, which led to 31 turnovers for the Vikings, said Coach Lehti. He also praised the rebounding efforts of Morrill, Stephenson and Vandecar.

Junior Brenda Moshier, he said, played a strong defensive ball game, and Allen also put in a strong performance.

With the win over Rogers City, Grayling finishes at 5-3 (3rd place) in the Lake Huron Division of the Great Northern League. Their season record stands at 8-10.

Now coming off two victories and with momentum developing, the Vikings are ready for tournament play to begin.

Grayling drew a bye for Monday, November 12, and will play the winner of the Lincoln-Alcona/Whitemore-Prescott match-up on Wednesday, November 14, at 6:30 p.m.

The GHS team practiced in the Alcona gym on Saturday morning and anticipates that they will be playing L-A on Wednesday.

"We know that we can play ball with them," said Lehti, referring to the fact that Grayling lost by only five points to Alcona at home and by one point in overtime away during regular season action.

All district tournament games will be played at Alcona. The town is about six miles west of Harrisville on M-72 East. The high school is easy to find, situated on the left side of the M-72 Highway.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Nancy Root, of Grayling, beat out Patrick Cerrilli in a tiebreaker to win the weekly prizes for the Nov. 10-12 games. Both had 17 correct and Root's tiebreaker guess of 49 was closer to the Detroit-Minnesota score of 24 points.

A large group of persons came close with 16 correct. Detroit, L.A. Raiders, Kansas City, and little Cheney St. let most of them down with losses. Morgan St., who had not won yet this year, upset Cheney St. 2-0. M.K. of Grayling took low honors this week with only 4 correct and he correctly picked Minnesota over Detroit.

Last Week's Winners:

1. Minnesota (24)
2. Chicago
3. Indianapolis
4. Miami
5. Buffalo
6. Seattle
7. New Orleans
8. San Diego
9. Green Bay
10. N.Y. Giants

17. Virginia
18. Florida
19. Morgan St.
20. U. of M. (33)

Starting this week, the Avalanche Football Contest will begin the Bonus Point games. This week the Detroit-N.Y. Giant game will be worth 5 points. All other games are worth one point each. The Bonus Point game will count in the total for the weekly winner and it counts toward the overall contest. (For example, if you picked all 20 games correctly you will earn 24 points this week.)

Now, remember the Lions' history. Just when you think they're the worst team around, they'll pull off a big upset. But who can pick them against a 10-0 team at New York?

Leaders in the overall contest this week are:

Mike McNamara, 145; Sally McNamara, 143; Fred Krolkowski, 142; Hugh McLean, 141; Ken Wyman, 141; John Cottenham, 140; Chris Goinick, 140; Paul Hamlin, 140; Pamela Hull, 139; Jane Malknecht, 138.

Brain Teaser

Who spends the days in the window, goes to the table for meals, and takes a night? (Last week's answer: Charlie and Tony's grandsons.)

Frederic Elementary

Crystal Pilon

Mrs. Witte 4th grade Frederic Elementary
Mr. Bob McLachlan came to our school to talk to the fourth grade classes about recycling. He taught us what to look for when we buy things to make sure they can be recycled. The way we recycle at our school is that the fourth grade kids gave each room a box to put all their scrap paper in. We collect them every few days. Then Mr. McLachlan comes to our school every couple of weeks and picks up all the paper we have collected. We hope we can go and visit the landfill area and recycle center this spring.

We have been raising mealworms this year. This is to help us learn about insects. They go through four stages. They go from eggs, to larva, to pupa, to beetle. We have ten beetles right now. The mealworms like to eat grains.

Mr. Hatfield's fourth grade
Hi, we're the Busters. We go to Grayling Elementary School. We're in Mr. Hatfield's 4th grade. Three weeks ago we started TEAM work. First we worked on the team name. Then we started on map symbols. Last week Mrs. Yost, a 1st grade teacher, came into our class and watched us do TEAM work, because her class is going to start team work. What this is cooperative learning team work.

Sincerely, the Busters: recorder, Mary Bobenmoyer; timekeeper, Jeff Wagner; runner, Nick Lovely; encourager, Travis Pearl; reader, Jessica Becks.

Mrs. Akers' fourth grade
We read to the first graders from Mrs. Smock's room. We get different reading buddies every two weeks. We trade them every week. We go down to Mrs. Smock's room and the next week we stay at our room. Half of the room goes at one time. Then half of Mrs. Smock's room come to our room.

We read books to them. They usually have their own book and we usually use that one. They read their own book to us. I asked questions after I had read it. I like to do it. I think everybody likes to do it.

Americans Eric Hoffman Heather Ross Melissa Wejrowski Eric Thompson Colin Hunter

Mr. Hatfield's fourth grade
Our class has been doing teamwork since October 8. We have jobs that we take turns being. The names of the jobs are: recorder, reader, encourager, runner, and a time-keeper. The name of our group is "Americans." We work together on projects.

The recorder writes down everything the group decides on. He or she also records all artwork.

The timekeeper keeps track of time. They also get the team back to work.

The reader reads all directions orally and reads all materials orally.

The runner talks to the teacher and gets supplies.

The encourager praises team members and keeps everyone working.

GHS Players Open Season With 'Nightwatch'

The Grayling High School Players opened their 1990-91 season with the contemporary thriller, "Nightwatch," by Lucille Fletcher, on November 9 and 10.

"Nightwatch" was the second play directed by GHS English instructor and acting veteran David Glicker. Mr. Glicker's able student directors were juniors Lesleigh Mesack and Kristin Welch.

Of the nine cast members, three are veterans of last year's play, "Charley's Aunt"—junior Angela Thompson, who had the lead role of Elaine Wheeler, a disturbed Manhattanite; junior Josh Lepsy, who played Curtis Appleby, a scholarly but intrusive neighbor; and senior Tony Jones, who portrayed an overworked police officer, Lieutenant Walker.

Five of the actors are new to the GHS stage: senior Jay Mertes as John Wheeler, Elaine's impatient husband; exchange student/senior Marlen Stucky, as Helga, the Wheelers' maid; senior Andrea McLaughlin, as Blanche Cook, Elaine's best friend; junior Cheryl Willoughby, as Dr. Tracy Lake, a psychiatrist called in to treat Elaine; and sophomore Shawn Schnoor, as Sam Holke, a delicatessen owner.

Senior Jeremy Bereset, who played a leading role in "Charley's Aunt," filled in nicely for a sick cast member as Officer Vanelli, a New York cop.

The leading characters conveyed the tension of the story; the supporting cast provided the comic relief. Their combined efforts added up to a spirited, enjoyable presentation.

"Nightwatch" is set in the present in the brownstone home of Elaine and John Wheeler, located in an upscale neighborhood of Manhattan.

From the moment the play begins, Elaine is depicted as a nervous woman, someone plagued by a tragic past, who perhaps still now is in need of psychological help.

The action revolves around a murder she sees (or claims to see) in an abandoned building across from her home in Act I.

Her husband thinks she is cracking up and makes efforts to have her committed. But perhaps he has his own reasons to want Elaine shipped off to an asylum.

Her friend Blanche appears confused and frightened for Elaine, and provides her with comfort. But she also seems unusually interested in John Wheeler.

The policemen search the building, but cannot find any evidence of a dead body. Then in Act II Elaine claims to see another murdered person from her window. Again, no evidence of foul play is found. Nor do people believe her new story.

Yet in the shocking end, Elaine has the last laugh—at the expense of her husband and friend and to the surprise of nearly everyone in the audience.

Mr. Glicker's hardworking crew for "Nightwatch" included: senior Tim Miller and

set. Kris Welch acted as stage manager and Lesleigh Mesack was prop master.

Once again, the Comfort Center generously provided the furniture used in the GHS production.

Plans are now being made for the Grayling High School Players' winter production, which will probably be a comedy.

Like Amy, all class members named their eggs, made coverlets and cradles for them to ride in, cared for them constantly for five days and recorded their reactions and insights in a journal.

Amy said she read stories to Brandon, who had brown hair and black eyes. While he suffered from no physical or mental problems, other eggbies came with some sort of handicap.

FOR JAMES
GRAY HUGHES
JANUARY 1900

Wendall Hoover

Park Interpreter, Hartwick Pines State Park

Like many others, my preparations started a long time ago for four days in November. Some money has been saved, licenses purchased, and clothing prepared. There is more to those four days than just hunting. Much family tradition is there, like the cup without the handle, and the chair without the back, reserved for the newest member of the party. The coffee will come from an old graniteware pot salvaged from a logging camp dump back in the 20's, and the forty year old alarm clock will still roll us out.

I will again have an opportunity to walk where my father and grandfather walked.

Memories will crowd out other thoughts and so what if tears mist the eyes at certain places during that four day sojourn. I will enjoy the excitement I will see in my son's eyes, just as I will enjoy the company of old friends around the table at night.

There will be the antics of squirrels and chickadees to enjoy and perhaps a mouse to share lunch with. Maybe a deer, if we are lucky. If there is, my son and I will make our offering to the spirits just as other hunters have in millenniums past. Why, you ask? Because the tradition goes back beyond that of the family and because our forefathers teachings have not been forgotten.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

Hunting Camp

It's just an old broken down cabin
But for a few days of the year
A bunch of good old boys gather there
To hunt the wily white tail deer

A couple of the boys come up a few days early
To kind of clean the place up a little
This year they had to prop up the roof
To get sag out of the middle

With a chain saw they cut the wood we'll need
To cook our meals and heat the shack
Even put a couple of rolls of toilet paper
In that little house out back

The rest of the boys come as they can
Some not till the night before opening day
Although most try to get there before then
Some have trouble getting away

For we all enjoy being there
For it gives us a chance to be boys again
A chance to relax and just enjoy living
The rest of the year we are busy men

We enjoy the fun and companionship
That's what really brings us here
No one is really much concerned
If they never tag a deer

It is just the fun that we have there
For a few days we are free of strife
And those few days in our hunting camp
Are an important part of life

Over 50 Grayling business and professional men gathered at a dinner meeting last Friday evening at the Shoppens Inn. The meeting was called by the Kiwanis club's Committee for Industrial Post-War Planning. Dr. C.G. Clippert, who was named chairman of the committee by President Roy Trudgeon of Kiwanis Club, was unanimously named a permanent chairman by the gathering as was Carl W. Peterson as secretary. The purpose of the meeting according to the committee was to begin plans for insuring jobs for returning servicemen.

Mrs. Bert Dannenberg and sister, Jen McClair each came in with their partridge Sunday.

Pvt. Ted Stephan Jr. left Sunday night for Camp Ellis, Ill., after spending a furlough with his parents.

Over 150 interested people attended the Open House at the school Wednesday, November 8. Our own Crawford County was officially designated as the first Michigan county to reach its goal in the United War Fund Drive for this year, according to the Michigan United War Fund's campaign bulletin. While the state reports show that only 51 percent of the state quota has been reached, Crawford County now shows 120 percent. According to A.L. Miller of Battle Creek, President of the Michigan United War Fund Inc., the success of the Crawford County Drive can all be credited to the untiring efforts, and efficient executive work of Emil Geigling of Grayling.

S. 2-c Charles E. Owen, A.O.M. 3; B. 45; Barracks 81 N.A.T.T.A., Norman, Oklahoma, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Owen of Detroit, is anxious to hear from some other Crawford County boy who is in the Naval Air Corps. If you know of any boys, drop them a line. Chuck would certainly be happy to hear from any or all of them.

Pvt. 1-c William A. Hunter of Grayling, Michigan, with the Fifth Army in Italy, has been cited by the 350th Infantry Regiment of the 88th "Blue Devil" Division and awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for actual participation in combat against the enemy with Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army in Italy. Standards for the badge are high. The decoration is awarded to the infantry soldier who has proved his fighting ability in combat.

Pvt. Thorwald Sorenson is home on furlough from Camp Hood, Texas, visiting his wife and family; his brother, Alfred Sorenson and sister, Mrs. Jerome Kesseler. His brother, Pvt. Keith Sorenson is with the medical corps in Burma.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Papendick and Sid Bear from Ashley are spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Papendick and son, Clifton, hunting.

Roger Geigling, A.S., has completed his boot training at Great Lake Training Station and is home on leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Geigling.

Mrs. Willard Cornell entertained the Bridge Club Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Roy Milnes had high honors and Mrs. Harold MacNeven was second high.

Holger F. Peterson was named President at the regular annual meeting of the board of trade. Holger Hanson was named Vice-President, D.E. Smith, Secretary and Treasurer, A.J. Joseph, T.P. Peterson, Holger F. Peterson, B.E. Smith and Holger Hanson were all elected to two years on the Board of Directors. B.A. Cooley was elected for a one year term to fill the vacancy caused by C. W. Olson leaving.

Armistice Day was fittingly observed in Grayling with a large and colorful parade. An assembly was held in the High School auditorium with Pvt. Emil Geigling acting a master of ceremonies. A number of speeches were given. In the evening the member of the American Legion gave a ball at the Temple Theater that was well attended. A feature at the ball was a Red Cross Booth where people might renew their membership in the organization.

At the annual meeting of the Crawford County Farm Bureau, the following officers were elected: President, Oliver B. Scott, South Branch Township; Vice President, William Feldhauser, Maple Forest; Secretary, Hugo Schreiber, South Branch Township.

The boys and girls made merry last Thursday evening as they all gathered to char-vari Miss Lela Skinner and Fred Niederer who were married that evening.

Esbern Hanson returned Wednesday from Detroit where he had spent several days on business. Mrs. Hanson is staying for several additional days in Detroit.

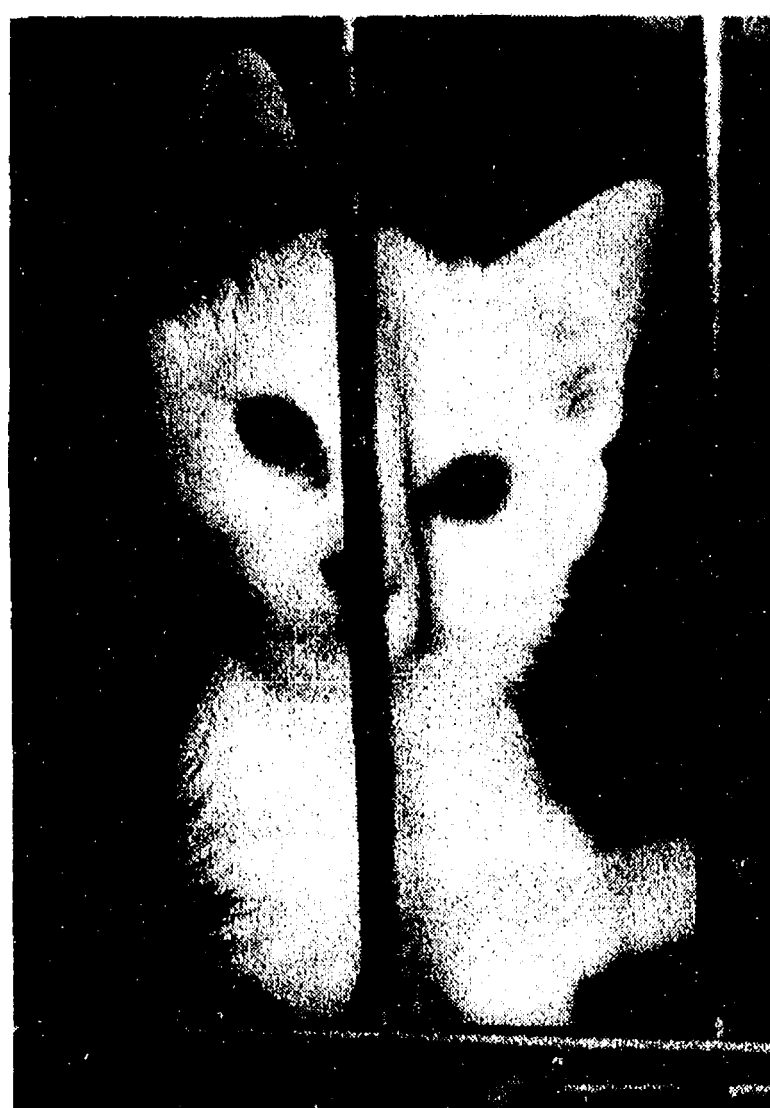

George Collen was the first hunter to get his deer in this neighborhood. He bagged his deer by 7 a.m. He shot the 230 pound buck five times. The scene of the kill was near the Manistee River.

The treaty of peace between Austria and the United States became effective this week with the exchange of ratifications between the two governments.

Mrs. Marius Hanson and Miss Lucille are spending the week in Detroit.

Punishment, in general, is NOT an effective way to treat misbehavior in dogs and cats. Ask your veterinarian for a recommendation on a way to reduce problem behavior, advises the National Humane Education Society.

Resource Review

Bruce Patrick Conservation Officer

Again, deer season is upon us. Some people plan their hunting trips for months. Others grab their rifle the night before opener to see if it still works. Wherever you fit into this continuum of anticipation, I want to emphasize that you must maintain an attitude of safety when you head for your stand.

Whenever you are dealing with firearms you must be careful. Everyone who hunts should be aware of the three most important rules for safe gun handling: treat every gun as if it were loaded; always point the muzzle in a safe direction; and be sure of your target — and beyond. These are standard, common sense things. There are also certain times when you must be doubly alert, including:

- When you have had just enough experience to think you know all the answers. Cockiness often leads to accidents, and is not limited to young hunters.

- When you're carrying a gun over rough country or obstacles. You should unload your firearm when the going gets rough. At least open the action.

- When you're plinking or target practicing. This is when "horsing around" can lead to tragedy.

- When you are tired. Reflexes and judgement decrease as carelessness increases.

- When you first spot game. Don't let the excitement push all safety consideration out of your mind.

- When somebody forgets or ignores safety rules. Your best friend or your relatives are most apt to kill you in a hunting accident than a stranger. Don't allow foolishness.

- When laws are violated. Having a loaded gun in a vehicle or failing to wear blaze orange are illegal — and stupid. As is handling a firearm after consuming alcohol or other drugs.

By using your head, you can prevent yourself from causing an accident, or being a victim.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

"Queer Nation"

Sodomite militancy has developed into revolutionary groups. "Queer Nation is the title adopted by one such group. Tom Bluit, one of the founders said, "Queer Nation is a statement of visibility... a new source of militancy." He said they plan "kiss-ins" and "Queer-ins" at straight establishments or events. This group was in the news for picketing St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York shouting insults and obscenities. Some of their placard slogans read: "Keep Your Rosaries Off My Ovaries," "Curb Your Dogma," "Eternal Life to Cardinal John O'Connor NOW!" and "Keep Your Church Out of My C..."

Another such group in Los Angeles is called ATTACK. (Artists Take The Action In Cultural Krisis.) While the Queer Nation has invaded the church tossing condoms in the air, and throwing Communion hosts on the floor, ATTACK has been more violent attacking innocent people and defacing public and private property. The group's founder, Larry Kramer told a Wall Street Journal reporter: "It hurts me to say I think the time for violence has now arrived. I don't personally think I'm the guy with the guts to do it, but I'd like to see an AIDS terrorists army, like the Irgun which led to the state of Israel." Another spokesman for the group said, "It's war, this is only going to make people stronger, more pushy, more ready to challenge this spooky government. We've just formed this group in Los Angeles, ATTACK." A third sodomite group is called ACT — UP. (Aids Coalition to Unleash Power.)

Destruction of Sodom under God's judgment followed an utter destruction of sexual morality, and a militancy which involved society in the attempted rape of even angels. Read the account in Genesis chapter 19. It is the same kind of vile affections described in Romans chapter 1. "For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the women, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error (AIDS?) which was meet." (Romans 1:26, 27). The end of such a degenerated society is seen in a reprobate mind which takes pleasure in corrupting others in spite of the severe judgment under God every unrepentant sodomite faces. (Romans 1:32). America has only started observing the eventual terrors of a "Queer Nation."

A brisk breeze chases downy clouds through bright blue skies. The sunshine is deceiving on this cool November day, as young mothers enthusiastically push babies in strollers past elderly couples sitting on park benches.

Scampering, chattering squirrels forage through crackling leaves in search of acorns, hoarding them for the cold winter ahead, when food will be scarce and snow covers the ground. They know instinctively to prepare for the future while food is plentiful, not waiting till frigid winds blow through bare branches.

We also can ensure nourishment for our soul as we worship God in His house each Sabbath. Visit Him and invite Him into your heart. God's love will brighten each day, and will strengthen you when the cold winds of adversity are threatening.

Crawford Voters In Step Statewide

Crawford County voters were right in step with the majority of Michigan voters last Tuesday for the offices of Governor, Secretary of State, and Attorney General, but favored William Schuette for the U.S. Senate position.

Senator John Engler stopped Gov. James Blanchard's bid for a third term in the county by 764 votes, 1961 to 1197. Statewide Engler edged out Blanchard by 19,134 votes, 1,279,745 to 1,260,611.

Richard H. Austin was returned to the Secretary of State office, defeating Judy Miller, 1,506,977 to 962,431. In Crawford County Austin received 1,736 votes to Miller's 1,463.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley won easily over his opponent, Clifford W. Taylor, 1,566,441 to 890,818. County voters agreed again, casting 1,830 votes for Kelley and 1,342 for Taylor.

Michigan voters returned Carl Levin to the U.S. Senate for a third term, defeating Bill Schuette 1,954,263 to 1,471,711. In Crawford County voters preferred Schuette 1,625 over Levin 1,544.

AREA RACES

In area races, John D. Pridnia will take over Connie Binsfeld's seat in the 36th State Senate District after defeating Ted Modrinski, 45,525 to 30,978.

In the 103rd State Representative District, Rep. Ralph Ostling was re-elected over Ellen Addington, 17,086 to 13,309. Dave Camp was elected to the 10th Congressional District seat, vacated by Bill Schuette, by defeating Joan Louise Dennison, 99,605 to 50,922.

Bob Davis will stay on as the representative for the 11th Congressional District, winning over Marcia Gould, 94,717 to 59,815.

NON-PARTISAN RACES

Judge William A. Porter was returned to the 46th Circuit Court and Judge Francis L. Walsh will continue to serve with the 83rd District Court. Emil Kraus received three write-in votes for the 83rd District Court and Bill Carey received one. Both offices have six-year terms.

LOCAL RACES

The Crawford County Board of Commission will have five new commissioners when it meets in January, 1991.

In contested races, Joseph Callewaert was the only incumbent candidate returned to the commission. He retained his District 4 seat by defeating Lawrence Matis, 294 to 521.

In District 3, Lee Riley defeated incumbent Robert Nelson, 256 to 226.

Robert Smock, Jr. took the District 5 commission seat from incumbent William Ruddy, 249 to 219.

Brian Hulbert won the commission's District 6 seat by defeating Larkin Baker, 179 to 128. Barbara Selesky received four write-in votes.

Loren Goodale, who was selected by the Crawford County Republican Committee last week to replace Mary E. Harland after she vacated the District 2 position, received 231 votes. Barbara Clark, a write-in candidate, received 39 votes. Gordon to get the program off the ground and MAASO has written a letter supporting the Star Patrol concept to OSA. For more information call Alea Thompson 1-275-5121, ext. 216.

The Star Patrol will provide identified elementary age students with their own tutor and academic help that will make them more successful in their school careers. Both reading and math will be addressed. It is the goal of the MARSVP to place 300 RSVP Star Patrol volunteers by June of 1991, in classrooms throughout the state. All the volunteers will go through a training program before being placed and will work closely with school personnel and RSVP Volunteer Coordinators.

The MARSVP has applied for a grant from the office of Services to the Aging

Farley also received two write-in votes.

Linda Caswell received four write-in votes for the District 2 commissioner's seat, but the votes could not be counted because Caswell resides in District 6.

Dennis Long, District 1, and Robert McLachlan, District 7, both ran unopposed, receiving 295 and 494 votes respectively. Kenneth Chapp was elected to the Crawford County Road Commission, defeating long-time commissioner, Gloria Kraus, 1,758 to 1,426.

Other write-in votes included one each for Helen Milliken and Dick Jacobs for Governor and one vote for William Milliken for the U.S. Senate.

Election results will not be final until approved by local and state Board of Canvassers.

Ecumenical Thanksgiving Worship Service Planned

Once again the AuSable Ministerial Association is pleased to invite the community to an ecumenical Thanksgiving worship service on Wednesday, November 21st, at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Rev. Derek Roy of St. Francis Episcopal Church will be preaching with representation of clergy from other Grayling churches. The Michelson Memorial Staff Quartet will provide special music for the occasion. The service will be held from 12:15 to 1:15 to accommodate working people coming to worship on their lunch hour.

101 Persons Attend Blood Bank Drive

A successful High School and Community Blood Drive was held on Wednesday, November 7, with 101 donors registered.

Unfortunately, due to the shortage of nursing staff and the long waiting lines, some donors were unable to stay and donate.

"The local blood services and student coordinators wish to apologize to the community and National Guard for the inconvenience. Everything possible will be done to see that it does not happen again. Donors are very important people who give the gift of life," said Betty Pamerleau, head of Crawford County Red Cross Services.

The three top donor groups were: students, retirees, and Camp Grayling.

A 15 gallon pin was awarded to William V. Mapes and a one gallon pin to Kathryn Maule.

There were 27 first time donors: Jamie Milliken; Joseph LaForest; Jeffery Pernie; Jennifer Lochner; Harold Meres, III; Michael McMillan; Marilyn Papendick; Jody Lobsinger; David Teddy; Christopher Lehti; William Merithew; Michael DiPonio; James Liberty; Thomas Dawson; Larry Henry; Marlen Stucky; Meri Koyama; Melissa Gorman; Dana Mirate; Shane Fraser; Tracy Chandonais; Andrew Moore; Holly Matewicz; Andrea Barber; Carrie Milliman; Matthew Holcamp; Shannon Phillips.

The next blood drive will be Wednesday, January 02, 1991, at the American Legion, from noon to 5:45 p.m.
